Internet from the electrical socket. Faster than ever before.

Fast. Faster. dLAN® 650+. Give your home the fastest home network. Easily via the household electrical wiring, as usual. Experience entertainment at the highest level, thanks to a high transfer rate at speeds up to 600 Mbps. Connecting your devices to each other is as easy as child's play – from the basement up to the attic, stable and continuous with no signal loss. Moreover, the integrated Gigabit LAN connection provides a direct connection for a network-compatible device. The best part: with the integrated electrical socket, no power outlet in your house is lost. Rely on the fastest and best, the dLAN® 650+ from devolo – your global market leader for Powerline home networking.

The integrated socket ensures that no electrical outlet is lost.
